11 L & M TIRE COMPANY, a California
 12 corporation doing business as EXPRESS
 13 TIRE,

14

Plaintiff,

15

v.

16

DN INVESTMENT GROUP, LLC, a New Jersey limited liability company, and
 DOES 1-10, inclusive

17

Defendant.

18

19

Plaintiff L & M TIRE COMPANY, INC., a California corporation, alleges as follows:

20

1. Plaintiff L & M TIRE COMPANY, INC. is a California corporation formed in 22 1971 which does business under the trade name "EXPRESS TIRE," for which it has properly
 23 filed fictitious business name registrations. Hereafter in this Complaint, plaintiff is referred to as

25

2. On information and belief and based thereon, defendant DN INVESTMENT GROUP, LLC (hereafter "DN INVESTMENT") is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, with Theodore Podhorcer, 14 Haller Road, West Orange,
 New Jersey 07052, listed as its Agent according to records on file with the State of New Jersey.

1 Defendant DN INVESTMENT maintains a website on the Internet at the address
2 www.dninvestmentgroup.com. The website lists DN INVESTMENT's address as P.O. Box 292-
3 WOB, West Orange, New Jersey 07052. The website homepage indicates that DN
4 INVESTMENT owns and operates a portfolio of domain names and associated web sites, and 5 provides original content and links to relevant content. DN INVESTMENT's websites, the 6 homepage states, range from advertising gateways to developed web sites.

7 3. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate or 8 otherwise of Defendants DOE 1 through DOE 10, inclusive, are unknown to plaintiff who 9 therefore sues said defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiff further alleges that each of said
10 fictitious DOE defendants is in some manner responsible for the acts and occurrences hereinafter
11 set forth. Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to show their true names and capacities when the 12 same are ascertained, as well as the manner in which each fictitious defendant is responsible for 13 the damages sustained by plaintiff.

14 4. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that each defendant
15 was the agent, alter-ego, joint venturer, servant and employee of each other defendant, and in 16 performing the acts described in this Complaint, was acting in the scope of his, her, or its 17 authority with the consent of each other Defendant. Each defendant ratified and/or authorized the 18 wrongful acts of each of the other defendants.

19 5. The above named defendants and the fictitiously named DOE defendants 20 (collectively, "defendants") are jointly and severally liable and are legally responsible for the 21 wrongful conduct that caused the damages to plaintiff as alleged in this Complaint.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

23 6. This is an action for cybersquatting, trademark infringement, and unfair
24 competition arising under the Federal Trademark Act, the Anticybersquatting Consumer
25 Protection Act, and the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1051 et seq. This Court has jurisdiction of the 26 subject matter and the parties under 15 U.S.C. § 1121(a), and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.
27 Additionally, this Court has jurisdiction over defendants pursuant to the “Effects Doctrine” as 28 defendants have “purposefully availed [themselves] of or directed [their] activities toward”

1 residents of California by, among other things, registering the trademark of a California
2 corporation, Express Tire, as a domain name, directing defendants' website advertising and links
3 to residents of California, and directing Internet users to websites of and concerning competitors
4 of plaintiff that are themselves doing business in and competing directly with plaintiff in the 5 Southern District of California.

6 7. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331(b) and (c) because a
7 substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this judicial district,
8 inasmuch as it is in this judicial district where the confusion among consumers is likely to occur,
9 creating damage to the value of plaintiff's service marks.

COMMON ALLEGATIONS

11 8. EXPRESS TIRE is the owner of the following distinctive service marks registered
12 on the Principal Register of the United States Patent and Trademark Office:

13 (1) EXPRESS TIRE AUTO SERVICE CENTER # 1 IN SERVICE,
14 Registration No. 2310444, registered on January 25, 2000, for which a true and correct copy of 15 the Registration Certificate is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated herein by reference;

16 (2) EXPRESS TIRE.COM AUTO SERVICE CENTER, Registration No.
17 2773145, registered on October 14, 2003, for which a true and correct copy of the Registration
18 Certificate is attached hereto as Exhibit 2 and incorporated herein by reference;

19 (3) EXPRESS TIRE, Registration No. 2829191, registered on April 6, 2004,
20 for which a true and correct copy of the Registration Certificate is attached hereto as Exhibit 3
21 and incorporated herein by reference.

22 9. EXPRESS TIRE has used the "EXPRESS TIRE" portion of the mark in commerce
23 for approximately 25 years and added the ".COM" portion of the mark in approximately January 24 1999. EXPRESS TIRE has automotive service centers throughout Southern California. The 25 mark is prominently displayed on and in each of these centers and in advertisements for products
26 and services provided at each of the centers.

27 10. EXPRESS TIRE has used the mark for EXPRESS TIRE for almost 20 years in its 28 advertisements in newspapers, magazines, direct mailers, on the radio and on the Internet, in store

1 displays and on its service centers. By 1997, EXPRESS TIRE was spending in excess of $1
 2 million per year to advertise its services under the mark in San Diego County and Southern
 3 California. As of 2002, EXPRESS TIRE has spent in excess of $2 million per year to advertise
 4 its services under the mark. EXPRESS TIRE's consumers, when seeing the mark on 5 advertisements, coupons and at its service centers, recognize the mark as identifying the services
 6 of a single source, namely, EXPRESS TIRE. EXPRESS TIRE's mark is an established and
 7 widely recognized commercial symbol identifying its services and it distinguishes EXPRESS
 8 TIRE's services from the goods and services of competitors. When a consumer obtains a service
 9 from one of EXPRESS TIRE's service centers, the consumer assumes the service comes from the 10 same source and is of equal quality with all other services provided under EXPRESS TIRE's
 11 mark.

12 11. By the late 1990's, EXPRESS TIRE had registered the domain name
 13 expresstire.com, and from as early as December 1998, has continuously used and updated its 14 website at expresstire.com to advertise its automobile repair and maintenance services, tire
 15 rotating and balancing services, automobile service station services, and retail tire store services.
 16 On April 11, 2002, EXPRESS TIRE applied for a federal registration for the trademark including 17 the term Express Tire.com, as alleged above, and shown in the federal registration that was 18 granted by the United States Patent and Trademark Office, a copy of which is attached as 19 Exhibit 2.

20 12. In August 2007, EXPRESS TIRE inadvertently did not renew its registration of 21 the domain name expresstire.com.

22 13. In September 2007, on information and belief and based thereon, defendants DN
 23 INVESTMENT and/or defendants DOES 1-10 registered the domain name expresstire.com.
 24 Attached hereto as Exhibit 4 is a true and correct copy of the WHOIS registry data showing the 25 registrant as of approximately September 13, 2007 as "Administrator, Domain" with an email
 26 address of dns@dninvestmentgroup.com, and a mailing address of P.O. Box 292-WOB, West
 27 Orange, New Jersey 07052. Attached as Exhibit 5 is a true and correct copy of the website
 28 www.dninvestmentgroup.com, which is identified as the website for DN Investment Group, LLC,

1 a company that "owns and operates a portfolio of domain names and associated web sites." The
 2 contact information shown for DN Investment Group, LLC is "P.O. Box 292-WOB, West
 3 Orange, New Jersey 07052" and admin@dninvestmentgroup.com.

4 14. Upon discovering that its domain name registration for expresstire.com had lapsed
 5 inadvertently, EXPRESS TIRE contacted its counsel, who performed some investigation and 6 promptly wrote a letter dated October 9, 2007 to DN INVESTMENT, to the attention of 7 Theodore Podhorcer aka Ted Podhorcer, agent of DN INVESTMENT. The letter identified
 8 EXPRESS TIRE's trademark registrations and trademark rights, and stated the circumstance of 9 the inadvertent lapse of EXPRESS TIRE's domain name registration for expresstire.com. The 10 letter also informed DN INVESTMENT and Mr. Podhorcer of the impropriety of DN
 11 INVESTMENT's website at www.expresstire.com, and requested a response and cooperation in 12 transferring the domain back to EXPRESS TIRE. The letter was sent via certified mail return
 13 receipt requested to DN INVESTMENT's mailing address at P.O. Box 292-WOB, West Orange,
 14 New Jersey 07052 and to the mailing address for Ted Podhorcer on file with the state of New 15 Jersey – 14 Haller Rd, West Orange, New Jersey 07052. The letter was also sent via Federal 16 Express to the mailing address for Ted Podhorcer on file with the state of New Jersey. The letter
 17 was also sent to DN INVESTMENT via email to the two known email addresses, 18 dns@dninvestmentgroup.com, and admin@dninvestmentgroup.com. A true and correct copy of 19 the letter dated October 9, 2007 is attached hereto as Exhibit 6.

20 15. Neither Mr. Podhorcer, nor DN INVESTMENT responded to the letter from 21 EXPRESS TIRE counsel dated October 9, 2007.

22 16. On information and belief and based thereon, investigation of the currently 23 existing website and current WHOIS registration database information indicates that defendants,
 24 in conjunction with the services of a third party, have posted a website at www.expresstire.com
 25 that confuses Internet users and plaintiff's customers, diverts Internet users and plaintiff's
 26 customers to competitors of EXPRESS TIRE, and takes advantage of EXPRESS TIRE's marks
 27 and goodwill associated therewith to generate revenue and other benefits for defendants.

28 ///

COUNT I - CYBERSQUATTING

(Against Defendant DN INVESTMENT and DOES 1-10)

17. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 16 herein as if fully set forth.

18. Defendants have registered and used the domain name, expresstire.com.

19. The domain name, express tire.com, is identical to or confusingly similar to trademarks owned by, used continuously by, and which are federally registered by plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE.

20. EXPRESS TIRE's trademarks are and were distinctive at the time of defendants' registration in September 2007 of the domain name, expresstire.com.

21. On information and belief and based thereon, defendants' acts alleged above were committed with a bad faith intent to profit from plaintiff's trademarks. On information and belief and based thereon:

(a) Defendants have no trademark or other intellectual property rights in the domain name expresstire.com, and defendants actually knew, and at a minimum, were on constructive notice of plaintiff's trademarks rights, given plaintiff's federal registrations;

(b) Defendants had no prior use of the domain name expresstire.com in connection with any bona fide offering of any goods or services;

(c) Defendants use the domain name expresstire.com commercially to generate revenue and gain other benefits:

(d) Defendants intend and successfully do divert consumers from EXPRESS TIRE's prior online location to sites accessible under the domain name that could harm the goodwill represented by EXPRESS TIRE's marks, and do so for commercial gain;

(e) Defendants seek to evade responsibility for the domain name registration and content of the website posted on the domain name expresstire.com, by failing to include the action name of the registrant on the WHOIS domain name registry database, and instead, only listing “Administrator, Domain.”

(f) Defendants themselves and through affiliates, such as TMP Capital LLC, DN Investment Group II LLC, and DN Investment Group III LLC, have registered or acquired multiple domain names, such as CalCloset.com¹, which they knew are identical or confusingly similar to marks of others that are distinctive at the time of registration of such domain names, or dilutive of famous marks of others that are famous at the time of registration of such domain names, without regard to the goods or services of the parties;

(g) Defendants have no reasonable basis for any belief or grounds to believe that the use, and the continued use of the domain name, was or is a fair use or otherwise lawful.

22. As a result of defendants' acts in registering the domain name expresstire.com and using the domain name expresstire.com, including without limitation, the posting of a website for profit that confuses Internet users, diverts users to competitors, and falsely designates the source or origin of services, EXPRESS TIRE has suffered harm for which there is no adequate remedy at law, thereby entitling plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE to immediate preliminary injunctive relief and permanent injunctive relief, including but not limited to an order for the forfeiture or cancellation of the domain name or the transfer of the domain name to EXPRESS TIRE.

23. As a direct result of the acts of defendants, EXPRESS TIRE also has suffered damages in the form of lost profits and/or lost sales and damage to its goodwill in an amount up to three times the amount proven at trial, plus its costs, or alternatively, at plaintiff's election, plaintiff is entitled to statutory damages in an appropriate amount to address defendants' actions and to afford appropriate relief to EXPRESS TIRE, plus costs.

24. Additionally, due to the willful, wanton, deliberate, and bad faith actions of defendants, plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE is entitled to an award of reasonable attorneys' fees.

¹ This was the subject of a Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution proceeding filed by California Closets Company, Inc., headquartered in San Rafael, California, through the WIPO Arbitration and Mediation Center, Case No. D2006-1359; see decision of administrative panel at <http://www.wipo.int/amc/en/domains/decisions/html/2006/d2006-1359.html>

COUNT II - TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT(Against All Defendants)

25. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 24 herein as if fully set forth.

26. Plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE is the owner of three service marks registered on the Principal Register of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, as shown in Exhibits 1 through 3 to this Complaint.

27. EXPRESS TIRE has used the "EXPRESS TIRE" portion of the mark in commerce for approximately 25 years and added the ".COM" portion of the mark in approximately January 1999. EXPRESS TIRE has expended substantial sums in promoting and advertising its services under its marks, including but not limited to significant expenditures to establish and maintain its Internet website at www.expressstire.com

28. As a result of the extensive and substantial advertising and sales of services under its marks, its marks are well known to the public as a distinctive indication of the origin of EXPRESS TIRE's services.

29. On information and belief and based thereon, defendants obtained the Internet domain name registration of expressstire.com on or about September 13, 2007. Defendants' registration of expressstire.com was obtained well after EXPRESS TIRE began using its marks in connection with the advertising and promotion of its services in interstate commerce, and well after registration certificates had issued for plaintiff's marks by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

30. Despite constructive notice, and on information and belief, despite having actual notice of plaintiff's marks, defendants registered the domain name expressstire.com. On information and belief, after registering the domain name, defendants caused the set up and operation of a website at expressstire.com for the purpose of deriving revenues and other benefits from advertising and providing links to other Internet websites in a manner that confuses consumers (including but not limited to confusion of the "initial interest" variety), and diverts Internet users and EXPRESS TIRE's customers to others, including competitors, thereby trading

1 on EXPRESS TIRE's marks, the association of the public with those marks, and EXPRESS
 2 TIRE's goodwill.

3 31. Attached hereto as Exhibit 7 is a true and correct copy of a printout showing the 4 website posted at expresstire.com following defendants' registration of the domain name,
 5 expresstire.com.

6 32. Defendants' registration of the domain name expresstire.com, and posting and 7 maintenance of their website at expresstire.com (as shown in Exhibit 7 hereto) make use in 8 commerce of EXPRESS TIRE's marks or colorable imitations thereof, in a manner likely to cause
 9 confusion or mistake and/or likely to deceive EXPRESS TIRE's customers and those seeking 10 EXPRESS TIRE's services or information concerning EXPRESS TIRE's services, in violation of 11 EXPRESS TIRE's rights under 15 U.S.C. § 1114(a), and at common law.

12 33. On information and belief, plaintiff alleges that defendants intentionally and 13 deliberately used EXPRESS TIRE's registered marks and continues to do so, such that 14 defendants' actions rise to the level of an exceptional case such that EXPRESS TIRE is entitled to 15 reasonable attorneys' fees.

16 34. As a direct and proximate result of the infringement by defendants, EXPRESS
 17 TIRE has suffered damages in the form of lost profits and/or lost sales and damage to its
 18 goodwill, and plaintiff is entitled to recover up to three times the amount proved at trial, as well
 19 as its costs. Additionally, and/or alternatively, defendants have unjustly and improperly derived
 20 revenue and other profits from their infringing use and should be required to account for and pay
 21 such profits or an amount that the court deems is just, to plaintiff.

22 35. Additionally, EXPRESS TIRE is entitled to preliminary and permanent relief 23 enjoining defendants from making use of the domain name, operating a website at 24 www.expresstire.com, engaging in any other activity constituting an infringement of plaintiff's 25 marks, and directing defendants to cause the registration of the domain name to be transferred
 26 back to EXPRESS TIRE.

27 ///

28 ///

COUNT III - UNFAIR COMPETITION

(Against All Defendants)

36. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 35 herein as if fully set forth.

37. Defendants have engaged in acts of unfair competition under section 43(a) of the Federal Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a), California Business and Professions Code § 17200, and under common law, by engaging in the acts alleged above, and additionally, by violating plaintiff's rights in its trade name EXPRESS TIRE.

38. Defendants' registration of the domain name expresstire.com, and use of plaintiff's marks on the website posted at expresstire.com in the manner alleged above is deceptive and/or likely to cause confusion or mistake, or to deceive the public and plaintiff's customers as to the affiliation, connection or association with plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE, as well as to the source, origin, approval or sponsorship of services and commercial activities.

39. In addition, the actions of defendants alleged above confuse or deceive the public by creating “initial interest confusion,” constituting unfair competition under 15 U.S.C. § 1125(A), for which immediate preliminary and permanent injunctive relief is appropriate.

20. On information and belief and based thereon, EXPRESS TIRE alleges that defendants' acts constituting unfair competition rise to the level of an exceptional case such that EXPRESS TIRE is entitled to an award of reasonable attorneys' fees.

41. As a direct and proximate result of defendants' acts constituting unfair competition, EXPRESS TIRE has suffered damages in the form of lost profits and/or lost sales and damage to its goodwill, and plaintiff is entitled to recover up to three times the amount proved at trial, as well as its costs. Additionally, and/or alternatively, defendants have unjustly and improperly derived revenue and profits from their acts of unfair competition and should be required to account for and pay such profits or an amount that the court deems is just, to plaintiff.

42. Additionally, EXPRESS TIRE is entitled to preliminary and permanent relief enjoining defendants from making use of the domain name, operating a website at www.expressstire.com, engaging in any other activity constituting unfair competition or an

1 infringement of plaintiff's marks or trade name, and directing defendants to cause the registration
 2 of the domain name to be transferred back to EXPRESS TIRE.

3 REQUEST FOR JURY TRIAL

4 Plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE respectfully requests a jury trial as to all issues and causes of 5 action, as allowable under law.

6 PRAYER

7 WHEREFORE, plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE respectfully prays as follows:

8 (1) The court enter judgment that:

9 (a) Defendants have violated the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act,
 10 15 U.S.C. § 1125(d)(1)(A);

11 (b) Defendants have infringed the rights of plaintiff EXPRESS TIRE under its 12 federally registered marks under 15 U.S.C. § 1114(1), and/or at common law;

13 (c) Defendants have competed unfairly under 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a), California
 14 Business and Professions Code § 17200 and under common law;

15 (2) The court enter an order affording EXPRESS TIRE with preliminary and 16 permanent injunctive relief enjoining defendants from making use of the domain name
 17 expresstire.com, from operating a website at www.expresstire.com, from engaging in any other
 18 activity constituting an infringement of plaintiff's marks or otherwise constituting unfair
 19 competition, and directing defendants to cause the registration of the domain name
 20 expresstire.com to be transferred back to EXPRESS TIRE;

21 (3) For an award of up to three times plaintiff's lost profits, lost business and damage
 22 to its goodwill, or alternatively, for an award of defendants' profits or such increased amount as 23 the court deems appropriate under the facts;

24 (4) For an award of costs;

25 (5) For a determination that defendants' conduct was exceptionally willful and 26 deliberate, and an award of reasonable attorneys' fees pursuant thereto;

27 ///

28 ///

1 (6) For such further relief as the court deems equitable, just and appropriate.

Re: Domain Name Registration - expresstire.com

Dear Mr. Podhorcer:

We represent L & M Tire Company, Inc., a California corporation that does business as Express Tire, which is the owner of the following trademarks registered on the Principal Trademark Register at the United States Patent and Trademark Office:

(1) EXPRESS TIRE

(USPTO Reg. No. 2829191; April 6, 2004 – see Attachment A.)

(2)

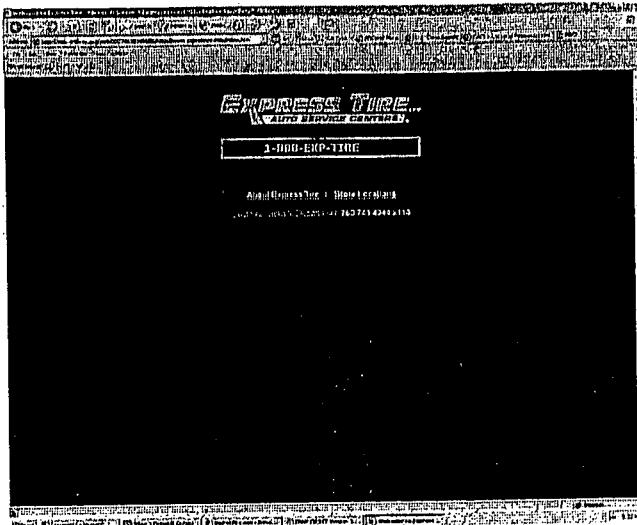

(Reg. No. 2773145; October 14, 2003 – see Attachment B.)

It has come to our attention that you recently registered the domain name, expresstire.com, through the domain name registrar Network Solutions. Express Tire has used the expresstire.com domain name continuously since August 1996:

October 9, 2007

Express Tire's registration of expresstire.com inadvertently lapsed during the most recent renewal period. It appears that it was during the brief period of lapse in registration that you registered the domain name expresstire.com in your own name, with your name and business entity, DN Investment Group aka DN Investment Group LLC, listed as Administrator.

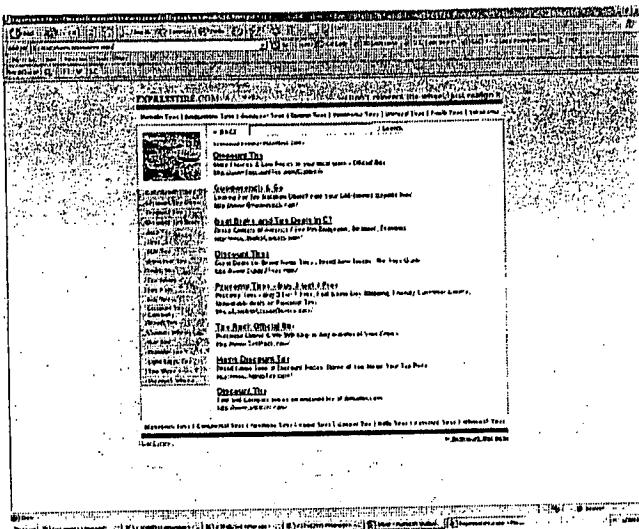

Following your registration of expresstire.com, a website was put up that diverts Internet users to various commercial websites:

DUCKOR SPRADLING METZGER & WYNNE
A LAW CORPORATION

Theodore M. Podhorcer
October 9, 2007

For instance, clicking on "Discount Tires" diverts Internet users to listings for Discount Tire, Goodwrench & Go, and Tire Rack, among others:

Express Tire has not ceased using and has not abandoned in any way its federally registered trademarks. Accordingly, Express Tire requests that you cooperate in directing Network Solutions (or whoever might subsequently become the registrar) to transfer the domain name, expresstire.com, back to Express Tire.

Although we would expect a legitimate domain name investment company to agree to transfer a domain name comprised of a federally registered trademark without unnecessary escalation, if you are unwilling to voluntarily transfer it back through this request, as you are aware¹, the ICANN Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (UDRP), as well as the federal Lanham Act, of which the Anticybersquatting Consumer Protection Act (ACPA) is a part, provide alternative procedures and remedies.

To avoid the necessity of proceedings under the UDRP and/or the ACPA, we request that you confirm to us in writing by Friday, October 12, 2007, your willingness to immediately and voluntarily instruct Network Solutions to transfer the domain name, expresstire.com, back to L & M Tire Company, Inc. (dba Express Tire).

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
